Cyril Boggis was an antique furniture dealer in London. He ①was known for buying good things at a low price and then selling them ②at a high price. (A)People asked him where he had got the furniture, but he just said, "It's a secret."

Mr. Boggis' secret was simple. (B)He went to small towns every Sunday and knocked on doors. He told people that he was a furniture dealer. (C)People didn't know how valuable were their things, so Mr. Boggis ③took advantage of them. He was able to buy things very cheaply.

Now it was another Sunday, and Mr. Boggis was in a small town again. At a house he visited, he met two men. (D)One was Rummins, the owner, and the another was his son Bert.

"I buy old furniture. Do you have any?" asked Mr. Boggis.

"No, I don't," said Rummins.

"Can I just take a look?" asked Mr. Boggis.

"Sure. Please come in," said Rummins.

Mr. Boggis first went to the kitchen, and there was nothing. He then moved to the living room. And there it was! A table which was a priceless piece of eighteenth-century English furniture. He was so excited that he ④almost fell over.

"What's wrong?" Bert asked.

"Oh, nothing. Nothing at all," Mr. Boggis lied. He then said ⑤with a straight face, "This table is a reproduction. (E)It's worth only a little pounds."

He then added, "Hmm, I think I may buy it. The legs of my table at home are broken. I can cut off the legs of your table and attach @them to @mine."

"How much?" Rummins asked.

"Not much, I'm afraid. This is just a reproduction," said Mr. Boggis.

"So how much?"

"Ten pounds."

"Ten? It's worth more than that."

"How about fifteen?"

"Make it fifty."

"Well, thirty. @This is my final offer."

"OK, it's yours, but how are you going to take it?"

This @thing will not go in a car!"

"We'll see," Mr. Boggis said and went out to bring his car.

On his way to the car, Mr. Boggis couldn't help smiling. The table was what every dealer dreamed of. He couldn't believe his luck.

"Dad, what if this thing doesn't go in his car? He might not pay you," said Bert.

Rummins then had an idea. "(A)그가 원하는 것은 오직 다리 뿐이야. Let's cut the legs off for him," said Rummins. "Great idea!" said Bert. Bert then took out a saw and began to cut off the legs.

When Mr. Boggis came back, they had removed the legs. "Do not worry, this was a favor. I won't charge you for @this," said Rummins. Mr. Boggis was so shocked that he couldn't say anything.

[18~20] 다음 글을 읽고 문음에 답하시오.

(A) In sports, only the players get a trophy or medal, but they don't win on its own. There are people who help the players. (B) These people are often hidden and don't get attention. However, (C) they are as important as the players. Here are some examples.

Pacers in a Marathon

(B) Pacers run with other runners and leading them in a marathon. Pacers are experienced runners, and their job is to help other runners manage (C) their race better. There can be several pacers in a race.

(C) Each pacer runs at different speeds and finish the race in different times. (D) Pacers usually have flags or balloons shown their finish time.

(E) Runners can choose a pacer depending on their target finish time. For example, if a runner wants to finish the race in four hours, the runner will follow the four-hour pacer. Since the pacer keeps track of the time, the runner can achieve his or her goal of finishing the marathon in a particular time more easily. In short, pacers run but (D) they don't run to win. (E) They run for others.
